Content Management Software Applications: Smart Systems Give You Immediate Results

Sometimes the best changes begin with a breaking point... a point of frustration. In the case of one of our manufacturing clients, the call for help went something like this::

“Help! We’re drowning in paperwork and running out of storage space!”

No problem. At CASNET, we have you covered, with real solutions for immediate results in enterprise content management (ECM).

In this specific case, the solution to their storage-space limitations was the installation of a specific ECM software application that was networked throughout their organization. This “sophisticate electronic filing cabinet” was actually the most cost-effective solution to their space dilemma, and came with even greater benefits. Bigger profits, smoother operations and greater efficiency were just the beginning. And their cost savings was immediate.

Today’s ECM software applications, offered by CASNET, are designed to simplify and speed up your current processes. Sounds like a big scary change, but our systems are actually set up to work the way you do.

Most software applications can be formatted to your existing interface, set up to operate with your existing system. This creates a more natural user experience – a more comfortable system for the individual to use. The result is faster adoption of the technology, with less resistance from staff.

The results are impressive. And they can be for your enterprise as well.

CASNET Makes the Difference

At CASNET, we partner with our clients to help them implement solutions to improve their key processes. Faster service at a lower cost is just the beginning.

Imagine your office, automated, so all the data to manage your operations is available from your desktop. No time wasted searching filing cabinets, tracing faxes or scouring old email servers for the details you need. All information is centralized to a single source, retrievable within a few keystrokes. Information can even be cross-referenced to related documents, increasing accuracy and the quality of your work.

For example, one simple click on a purchase order number, and all relevant paperwork pertaining to that order could pop up on your screen. Or one click on the client name and all pending recent orders are in view.

No more digging through files, or spending hours funneling paperwork down the supply chain. Less paper is wasted, and more time is gained, with a systemized approach to your document management. CASNET can help.

Our team works to develop custom strategies, with technology applications to enhance your results. From concept to installation to on-going support, we handle all the details for you. When you’re ready for a simple solution to lower your expenses while increasing your quality of services, CASNET has the answer.

Protecting Growth With Better Service

In today’s competitive economic environment, you can’t afford to lose a single client. So when your customer calls with a question, how long does it take to pull their file to respond? You can avoid putting any orders in jeopardy by integrating a specialized document retrieval system.

Today’s technology allows you to trim hours from your customer inquiries – getting them the details they need in seconds – and with greater accuracy.

With CASNET, applying software solutions to your current workflow is easier and more cost effective than you may realize.

- Improve your organizational processes
- Consistency of system flow
- Enable better collaboration
- Gain faster retrieval to information
- Reduce overhead and expenses
- Protect and secure essential information assets
- Remain in compliance with laws and regulations

Software Solutions With You In Mind

Perhaps you feel your customer service response is fine, but space is getting tight. Your workload continues to grow, but you're running out of space for all those files. Packed drawers are so crammed with documents that it's getting hard to find anything, let alone file things properly. And then there's the occasional panic and time wasted when things do get lost.

There must be a better way. And there is.

It all starts with a single phone call to your friends at CASNET. From the first conversation, you'll notice that CASNET is a different kind of company. Our focus is on you, how we can help your enterprise flourish. Our team of service-driven professionals has the expertise you'd expect from an industry leader in content management.

Tell us what frustrates you about your process – what slows you down, or makes you crazy. We'll work with you to implement a content management system, specifically tailored to the way you work, that will exceed your expectations and accelerate your success.

Let's talk. Call us today.

Speed, Service and Savings With Systems that Make Sense

At CASNET, we actually enjoy taking your piles of files and designing a workflow system that makes more sense. By offering you only the best software applications to specifically address your unique situation, we help you:

- Serve your clients faster – The files and paperwork you need for each task are just a few clicks away;
- Improve your processes – Information is now universally available in an instant, to speed your overall operational efficiency;
- Reduce frustration – No more digging for lost files. No more time wasted searching for information that should be there, and isn't;
- Save space – Less square footage is required for physical document storage;
- Lower your exposure to risk;
- Stay in compliance – From Sarbanes-Oxley to your regular accounting reviews, your information can be easily verifiable to reduce audit costs;
- Secure and protect your information assets – Confidential information (social security numbers, credit card information, financial data, etc.) remains confidential, protecting your business (and those you serve) from information theft;
- Lower expenses for immediate savings – Faster processes, lower paper costs, less space required and fewer employee hours spent processing paperwork are just a few areas of cost reduction;
- Do more with less – Manage increased workloads with without adding staff, and/or downsize, converting your current manual workers to become knowledge workers;
- Serve people faster – With the documents and data you need at your fingertips, your staff can respond to customer and internal requests faster for better overall operations.
